

Dr. Sam Davis BIO

Dr. Sam Davis is married to Beverly M. Davis. He has served as the pastor of Beulah Grove Baptist Church (Augusta, GA) since 1984 and has over 30 years of experience in pastoring, clinical counseling and Christian education. Under his leadership, over 5,000 members have been added to Beulah Grove with over 85 ministries that foster personal growth and development and promote a sense of service to people. The Church established an aggressive evangelism campaign that includes a multi-media initiative of radio and television ministries, a ministry presence on the world wide web, social media and more.

In addition, he has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Voorhees College (Denmark, South Carolina), a Master of Divinity degree from the Interdenominational Theological Center (Atlanta, Georgia) and a Doctor of Ministry degree specializing in Pastoral/Clinical Counseling from Columbia Seminary (Decatur, Georgia).

Dr. Davis is the author of When the Multitude Comes: A Guide to Organizing a Growing Church, published in 2001; Strategies to Develop Kingdom Citizens published in 2002; The New Millennium Deacon published in 2003; Building Capacity to Build the Kingdom (Textbook and Workbook) with Min. Valerie Jackson, 2004; From a Sheep's Perspective, 2005.

Dr. Davis is the founder and CEO of the 30901 Development Corporation, Inc. (community and economic development) and the Beulah Grove Community Resource Center (food/clothing bank, family self-sufficiency & after school programs) and the Lamar Medical Center.
